

June 2011

Dear Friends,

Interrupted, are you ready for it? Wonderful Weekend for Women (WWW) is September 16 & 17, 2011 at Webster Conference Center (WCC), Salina, Kansas.

This conference exists for women to "spend time with God, experiencing personal and spiritual growth, challenging and equipping them to incorporate their Christian faith in their daily life, moving toward a lifestyle of missions, ministry, and evangelism", and of course, for just plain girl fun!

We're excited this year to have Jen Hatmaker, www.jenhatmaker.com as our keynote speaker and Lori Morrison, www.lorimorrison.com as worship leader. Check out their websites! Also this year we are giving you the opportunity to hear from one of the best female church planters we know, Pamela Mungo, NAMB missionary.

If you are a pastor in a church without a Women's Ministry or WMU Director, please give this packet to an influential woman in your church family. Ask her to promote and be the leader for your church group. Our prayer this year is to see women's lives so interrupted by God's call to action that they will not be able to go home and go back to their normal lives!

Registration information is enclosed. Additional registration forms can be printed off online at www.KNwomen.com. Make frequent visits to this site and the WWW Facebook page for additional information concerning Wonderful Weekend for Women. Remember, registrations are final when payment is received. You will not want to wait until the last minute this year! We are planning for and expecting to max out Webster.

Please remember to encourage your women to register early and to pray for the women in your church and community who will attend this year's Wonderful Weekend for Women. Your encouragement for them to grow in their faith will strengthen your church in reaching your community and world for Christ.

Shiggaion!
